

LEASE DATA ARE MADE READY FOR OFFICIALS

Woolsey People to Decide On Taking Front Lands if Forty-Two Acres Go to Union Co.

ORDINANCE BEING PUT INTO SHAPE Suggestion That His Proposition Is Bluff Arouses Ire of the Attorney at Conference

As the result of a conference with city officials this morning over his proposition to lease the remaining portion of the city's western waterfront, Attorney A. J. Woolsey, representing unknown capital, will prepare a concrete proposal to be submitted next week for further consideration of the council members.

The conference brought out that the mysterious promoters who are seeking the lease through Woolsey are insistent that their identity shall not be disclosed until it is learned whether the council would seriously consider such a proposition as is offered. Further, the Woolsey people may or may not press their offer to take a lease of the remaining portion of the waterfront if the 42 acres sought by the Union Construction Company are rejected by the city, breaking up the continuity of the front where it adjoins the Key Route properties.

On the other hand Woolsey assured the officials that regardless of whether he obtains a lease on the entire waterfront, the Woolsey people will go ahead with the development of the lease on which they already have certain rights when the time comes for closing the bargain on December 15. At that time, he said, he stands ready to put up a $25,000 bond to insure fulfillment of the contract.

WANTS HIS CLIENTS TO MAKE GOOD FIRST It was the attitude of the commissioners of whom were present F. F. Morse, P. E. Jackson and W. H. Edwards, that the Woolsey people should first "make good" on the lease proceedings that have already been undertaken and then make application for acquiring additional frontage.

The council has been pointed out in a way that would not jeopardize its original leasehold proposition. The formal proposal will be submitted to the council early in the week, at which time it is possible that Commissioner Jackson will propose a resolution to the effect that the bid of the Union Construction Company on 42 acres is the only one received.

A tentative lease is now being drawn by the city attorney for submission to the Union concern and if certain clauses providing for reversion of the leasehold after a period of time are accepted by the company the lease ordinance would then be the next order of business.

In the meantime the Union concern is anxious to obtain some settlement of its propositions. Whether or not the whole matter will be delayed until the Woolsey lease is settled next month is now a question.

Woolsey expressed resentment over the attitude of Commissioner Edwards in attacking his proposals as a "bluff."

BOYS GLAD FOR MONEY THEY TELL TRIBUNE SO

Headquarters, 363rd Infantry, Camp Lewis, Wn., Nov. 20, '17. The Oakland Tribune: Permit me to thank you for your generous contribution to our Regimental Fund. The splendid response of the people of Oakland is characteristic of your fair city.

We have a large number of men in the 363rd infantry from Oakland and they are glad to feel that the folks at home are keeping in touch with them. The spirit of the men is fine and when called upon to give an account of itself the regiment will not fail.

The funds you sent, together with funds received from other sources, have been used to purchase a piano for the Regimental Recreation Hall, pianos and pool tables for the companies, baseball, football and track suits, boxing gloves and music for the regimental band and to provide additions to the mess.

It may interest you to know that our track team won the pennant at the division meet, defeating all the other teams of the division, our baseball and football teams have never been defeated and our weekly regimental "get together" smokers are a feature of the camp.

Very truly yours, H. L. T. CAVENAU, Colonel Infantry N. A. Commanding.

Deny Local Man Hostile To Gompers

Information received today from Buffalo, N. Y., where the American Federation of Labor is in session, that an Alameda county delegate was one of two who were the only opponents to the re-election of Samuel M. Gompers as head of the organization was denied by Central Labor Council officials.

Fred Voight was the local delegate according to S. W. Lore of the Labor Council, who is council delegate-at-large. Voight went absolutely unpunished. Lore declares the sentiment of the local council is overwhelmingly in Gompers' favor. The Buffalo information says the Alameda county delegate and one from the Furriers' Union stood alone in the opposition to the re-election.

President Gompers delivered a ringing patriotic speech openly pledging a united federation of labor anxious to lend every possible support to the government. The eight vice-presidents are: First vice-president, James Dunne, granite cutters. Second vice-president, James O'Connell, machinists. Third vice-president, William Mahon, street railway employees. Fourth vice-president, Joseph F. Valentine, molders. Fifth vice-president, John H. Alpin, plumbers. Sixth vice-president, P. B. Perham, railroad telegraphers. Seventh vice-president, Frank Duffy, carpenters. Eighth vice-president, William Green, miners.

The convention adopted a resolution protesting against the change in rates on second class postage. Resolutions were adopted favoring increased pay for letter carriers, post office clerks and asking for the right to appeal from the judgment of officials in disciplinary cases involving reduction in position or dismissal.

St. Paul beat out Cincinnati for the 1918 convention.

MATTOS DIRECTOR

Judge John G. Mattos, former state legislator, former United States appraiser, president of the Bank of Centerville, and director of the First National Bank of Oakland, has been appointed a state prison director, to take the place left vacant by the death of Colonel Charles Sonntag of this city.

Judge Mattos, who is justice of the peace in Centerville, his home for 33 years, is prominent in county Republican circles, and for many years has been secretary of the U. P. C. C., largest Portuguese organization in America. He is a practicing attorney.

The appointment was announced today by Governor Stephens.

KILLED AT PARTY

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 24.—J. T. Carvell, Southern Pacific switchman, is dead and Mrs. Clyde Matthews lies at the point of death at a local hospital as the result of a shooting affray at about 11 o'clock last night at the home of Mrs. E. Wright here.

Clyde Matthews, husband of the wounded woman, sought in connection with the shooting, has not been found by the police.

Matthews is a brakeman for the Southern Pacific. Circumstances attendant upon the holding of a late supper party at the Wright home, which is said to have included an unnamed third man, have not been cleared up.

BANK IS ROBBED

DANA, Ind., Nov. 24.—Three yeg-men blew open the safe of the First National Bank here early today and escaped with approximately $15,000, most of it in silver dollars.

The robbers escaped in an automobile after taking the office water tank and several other receptacles to carry away their loot. Oxyacetylene gas was used to burn a hole in the door of the safe.

DIVER SUNK BY GERMAN AFTER THEY SURRENDER

Crew on U-Boat Crippled by U. S. Destroyer's Depth Fire Treacherously Open Valves

MEMBERS OF CREW ARE MADE PRISONERS

Attempt to Tow the Captured Submarine Is Prevented; Two of the Kaiser's Men Are Lost

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—About forty members of a German U-boat's crew were captured, one German was drowned and another died of wounds when American destroyers captured a submarine.

The Germans raised their hands in surrender after they had been forced to the surface by a crippled rudder which had been struck by a destroyer's depth bomb.

While thus showing their surrender, they treacherously opened the valves, causing the vessel to sink after the American destroyer had cast a tow line to the U-boat.

The German who died while being hoisted by the U-boat to the destroyer was given a naval funeral, with full honors, aboard the American ship. The navy department made an official announcement today of the capture and sinking of the submarine.

By agreement with the British admiralty, Secretary Daniels withheld from his first announcement these details of the capture of the crew and their treachery.

This is the first case of a U-boat's crew being captured by American naval vessels since the United States entered the war, it is believed.

The date and the location of the encounter are not given by Secretary Daniels. There is the official description of the battle.

"Despatches from Admiral Sims state that a German U-boat has been accounted for by American destroyers operating in European waters. While on patrol duty a destroyer sighted a suspicious vessel and immediately ringing up full speed ahead the commanding officer headed his craft to pass a few yards ahead of the submarine. As the destroyer passed over the U-boat's course a depth charge was dropped, evidently causing damage to the U-boat, which shortly afterward appeared about 500 yards away. Fire immediately was opened on the submarine by two of our destroyers, which circled about their target.

The submarine did not return the fire and was evidently disabled. One of the destroyers got a line to her, intending to tow her, but the boat soon sank."

SEVEN ARE HURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Seven persons are recovering from the effects of a head-on collision between two automobiles at Market street and Van Ness avenue late last night. The injured:

HARRY MAUNDRELL, 21, Presidio avenue; broken wrist. MARTIN A. SCHMIDT, draftsman, board of public works, 2115 Jackson street; cut forehead. GEORGE MILNER, merchant, 2355 Mission street. WILLIAM HETTMAN, saloonkeeper, 2580 Alameda street. WILLIAM P. PHILMER, electro-typer, 10 Scott street. BRADFORD WEBSTER, attorney, Saratoga. R. G. GUYETT, broker, 1230 Washington street.

With the exception of the first two all escaped with minor scratches and bruises. Miller and Hettman were in one machine and swung into Guyett's car, in which the rest were riding, according to the latter, while avoiding an obstruction. All were treated at the Central Emergency hospital and sent home.

No arrests were made.

RIOT CONSPIRACY

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Nov. 24.—Richard Brockway, former special agent of the East St. Louis and Suburban Railway, was found guilty in the circuit court here today of conspiracy in an indictment growing out of the East St. Louis race riots. Two other white men jointly tried with Brockway were found guilty, and two were acquitted. Joseph Dickerson and James Anderson were acquitted of conspiracy.

The jury fixed Brockway's sentence to five years imprisonment and a fine of $1,000.

John Tish, 19 years old, was convicted of conspiracy and his punishment was fixed at 5 years in the penitentiary. John Johnson, 29 years old, was convicted and his punishment was fixed at one year's imprisonment.

FOR AMENDMENT

BRYN MAWR, Pa., Nov. 24.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, in an address at Bryn Mawr College last night said that a campaign for a federal amendment for woman suffrage is to follow the New York victory.

The power of New York support, she said, would be used.

"We are headed for Washington for democracy," declared Dr. Shaw. "As surely as our splendid young men and women are headed for Berlin for the same thing and as surely as those young men will get what they seek, as surely will the women of this country gain their freedom."

Byng Makes Gain at Cambrai; Russian Embassy in U. S. in Revolt Against Bolsheviks

Fontaine Notre Dame, Lost to Germans Again, Now in No-Man's Land and Ablaze

Last Three Thousand Yards Made Scene of One of Most Terrible Conflicts of War

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Nov. 24.—General Byng today fought his way back to within two miles of Cambrai. The Germans were buried upon Fontaine Notre Dame. The town is now in flames. The Germans are falling back upon Provins, a suburb of Cambrai proper.

Fontaine Notre Dame is believed to have been evacuated entirely by the enemy, so that is now No Man's Land.

Desperate fighting has marked the continued advance of the British, but they have pushed the nose of the wedge about 200 yards. The Hindenburg line back to within two miles of the city serving as the German supply center.

Bourlon Wood, where numerous and valuable observation posts had been established by the Germans, has been captured. At Bourlon, where the British made further advances, field guns captured from the Germans were turned almost point blank on the retreating enemy. Close hand-to-hand work marked the fighting at several points in the line as the British pushed the German counter attacks and then moved forward in new assaults of their own.

Crown Prince Rupprecht put forth every ounce of his army's strength today to stem the British advance and save Cambrai.

Today said Crown Prince Rupprecht had ordered Bourlon Wood, held at all costs and that the Thirtieth German division had been brought from the Aisne and the 119th division from the German front.

Both were stationed in Cambrai.

Bourlon Wood, with its 600 acres of oak and ash timber and with the ground covered with thick underbrush, conceals a number of German observation towers. Its natural height makes it a commanding point.

The victory now being fully consummated, proves once the Germans are swept from the air, mechanical man-killing can smash the German army.

DESPERATE DEFENSE OFFERED BY GERMAN

The German depot city is full of German troops. Aviators reported its suburbs bristling with massed field guns. Frenzied defenses are being thrown up in every direction. German many does not propose to surrender without the most desperate resistance.

Nevertheless, the city's use as a rail center is finished. It has been evacuated. Its stores, its railroads are now being cranked with reinforcements milked from among exhausted German divisions who had been sent back of the lines in rest billets. Various parts of the whole western front have contributed every man that could be spared.

Today, the British lines, still forging the steel wedge, reached the entire German salient between Cambrai and the Senne valley.

Withdrawal of British forces from Fontaine Notre Dame was a case of pure bad luck. The companies defending the position were short of ammunition when they were attacked by three battalions.

The position was an important one, since it endangered the German hold on Bourlon Wood and the village nearby, both of which are on the high ground and afford a sweeping view of the country in all directions.

THIRTY TANKS ARE LOST BY BRITISH

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 24.—Thirty British tanks were "shot to pieces" in the British assault around Cambrai, today's war office statement declared.

Southwest of Cambrai the statement says, the English again sought a decision. A strong attack on Inchy and desperate assaults against Moeuvres failed. British attacks on the Cambrai front in France, yesterday were repulsed in front of Bourlon, Fontaine and LaFolle Wood, it was announced today by the German war office.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—"During the night, the enemy undertook several raids, especially in the region of Courcy and the Argonne," says today's official communication. "It gained no success and suffered losses."

"In the Champagne we took prisoners in a raid east of Auberville. Dunkirk was bombarded by airplanes last night. There were no victims."

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Herbert Plumer, commander of the second army corps, which has been in the thick of the fighting in the Ypres battle, has been appointed commander of the British forces in Italy, it was officially announced today. Lieut. Gen. Sir W. R. Marshall has been named to command the British forces in Mesopotamia.

NAME AIR CHIEF

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Lord Rothermere today accepted the appointment as head of the air ministry.

Lord Rothermere succeeds Lord Cowdray, who resigned when the fact that his place had been offered to Lord Northcliffe became known through the letter in which Northcliffe declined the cabinet position.

Lord Rothermere is a brother of Lord Northcliffe. He is a liberal.

Byng Driving His Successes Home; Latins Hold Lines

General Byng has settled to a steady push against the German lines west of Cambrai and has made substantial progress along a six-mile front. It is now announced that more than 100 guns were captured by the British during this offensive.

The British pressure is directed northward on the east and west line from Fontaine to Quenast. The apparent object is to carry the encircling movement about Cambrai further to the north and east and drive in behind both the former Hindenburg line as it bears off to the northwest and the Quenast-Drocourt switch, thus rendering the latter useless as a secondary line of defense.

The Italian line is holding firmly, although its defense is costing the Italians heavily. There were further efforts by the Austro-German masses to break through to the west end of the line between the Asiago plateau and the Brenta, but they were withstood.

The Piave river line remains intact. Apparently the enemy efforts to force it are no longer serious, although Rome today reports the breaking up by artillery fire of attempts to lay pontoons. In the important mountain front, between the Brenta and the Piave, the struggle is still desperate one.

HUNS NAME HUGE PRICE FOR PEACE

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. COPENHAGEN, Nov. 24.—Germany has made peace terms to Russia involving Austria-Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Turkey, according to information received here today. It was declared on good authority that the following are the chief propositions laid down by the Kaiser:

ONE—Poland to be independent under Teutonic "protection."

TWO—Austria to get an indemnity from Russia.

THREE—Bulgaria to get Dobruja and to control the mouth of the Danube.

FOUR—Turkey to regain all the territory overrun by Russian troops and to be accorded trade routes in Persia and the Caucasus previously held by Russia.

Formal negotiations for an armistice have opened on the eastern front between the Germans and Russians, according to despatches received today by the Social Demokraten.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 24.—"Russian soldiers have already abandoned their advanced positions against German and Austrian troops on various parts of the front," according to the Frankfurter Zeitung. The newspaper today printed despatches from Tarnopol stating that the Russians are preparing complete evacuation of Galicia.

According to advices received here, General von Ludendorff, first quartermaster general of the German army, has started for the eastern front in connection with the Russian offer of a truce. He is said to be accompanied by a numerous staff.

There is an optimistic feeling in Berlin as regards peace with Russia, according to advices received from Berlin today. Although no formal armistice prevails, there has been a virtual truce on the eastern front for several weeks. It is said that German agents in Petrograd have reported to Berlin "that the Russian people seem ready for peace."

TOYKO, Nov. 24.—Hiroko, Russia, is in the midst of a reign of terror. Robberies occur almost hourly on the streets, mobs of criminals parade, and the Russian police have completely lost their power. The city is still divided on its allegiance to the old provisional regime or the new Bolshevik faction. Word to this effect, received today, said all foreign consuls had decided to make formal protest and to take adequate measures for the protection of foreigners' lives and property.

According to the Harbin message, Kerensky's whereabouts are still unknown and the Maximilists are gradually being supplanted in power by divided factions of other parties.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The Daily Mail in its issue this morning, prints a despatch from Petrograd which reports the salient features of a "violent Ambassador Breaks Off Allegiance in Formal Message to Sec. Lansing This Afternoon

ATTACHES OFFER THEIR AID TO U. S.

Says Deep Opposition by Sound Elements Bound to Arise and Reveal True Spirit of Nation

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Russian embassy here broke off all allegiance to the Bolshevik government this afternoon. In a message to Secretary Lansing, Ambassador Bakhmeteff declared that he would remain at his post, but had authorized other members of the embassy staff to leave.

Several attaches and Russian diplomats have resigned.

John Sookine, first secretary of the embassy and an officer of the Russian army, and Ferdinand de Mohren-schilf, the second secretary, who married Secretary McAdoo's daughter last May, have offered their services to the American government for the war against Germany.

DEEP OPPOSITION BOUND TO ARISE

"A deep and active opposition of all sound and constructive elements in Russia is bound to arise against the Bolshevik government," "revealing in positive action the true spirit of the loyal and national Russia."

Ambassador Bakhmeteff's message to Lansing follows:

"My dear secretary: In connection with the events that are taking place at present in Russia, I have considered it imperative to define clearly the attitude of the embassy."

"From the outset of the revolt in Petrograd, the embassy has considered the Bolshevik government as anti-national and not representative of the Russian people. The embassy has, therefore, refused to accept any contracts with the group at present in power in Petrograd. In the future I will continue in not recognizing the Bolshevik government."

"However, disorganizing and dangerous for my country and the common cause might be the offered help of the Bolsheviks, I have not declined for a moment the firm attitude that even open steps undertaken by the Bolsheviks for the withdrawal of Russia from the war cannot prejudice the true spirit of the Russian people and the real decision which the people will adopt when freed from the temporary rule of violence which is endeavoring actually to bring forth irreparable action."

"A deep and active opposition of all sound and constructive elements in Russia is bound to arise."

EMBASSY CANNOT EXERCISE FULL DUTY

"However, it is evident that until things change the Russian embassy cannot exercise in full measure the most essential of its duties and activities."

"In the meantime, defending the symbol of a national representation of Russia, I will carry on the current affairs pertaining to the manifold matters in which the Russian government has contracted light bonds in the process of war co-operation."

"I consider it my duty to remain at my post, having to hold firmly the dignity of national and loyal Russia, and to maintain the responsibility of all patriotic Russians."

"The fulfillment of this task will remain at the embassy and other Russian institutions in the United States, performing the heavy patriotic duty of contributing through their devotion to the cause of Russia, actually made in Russia by different departments and institutions, which, not recognizing the Bolshevik government, apply all efforts to oppose its destructive activities by maintaining to the utmost the prestige of Russia and preventing the dissemination of its disruption of all elements of the state. Accept, excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration."

(Signed) BAKHMETEFF.

WANG IS PREMIER

PEKING, Nov. 24.—The resignation of Premier Tuan Chi-chi, after several days ago, has been accepted, and Foreign Minister Wang Tsi-shieh has been appointed acting premier. Llang Chi-chiao, minister of finance, has been granted a leave of absence.

The rebels in the province of Hunan are advancing north along the Yangtze River. Some generals who previously had refused to support the government now see the danger of the southern revolt and are requesting the government to take strong military action. The situation is complicated, owing to the resignation of General Wang Shi-chien, chief of the general staff, as there is no responsible home of the war office.

A group of Japanese banks has loaned five million yen to China for one year at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent. In return, the group will have first call on similar loans.

Special to The TRIBUNE. CAMP LEWIS, Nov. 24.—That there are enemies at work in the camp who are menacing the safety of 40,000 men was shown by an early morning fire of undoubted incendiary origin, which broke out today in the $25,000 dancing pavilion adjoining the main barracks.

The chief topic of discussion at Camp Lewis today is the Seattle situation. Major General H. A. Greene, commanding officer in charge of the camp, flatly refuses to raise the quarantine of the city which he established and which forbids every enlisted man in the camp to set foot in the city except upon business or by special order.

Sunday Sermons Announced by Pastors; Archbishop Will Speak

CHORAL PROGRAM
AT PLIMMOUTH

The vested choir of thirty voices of Plymouth church under direction of Alexander Stewart has arranged for a series of Christmas Sunday evening musical programs. On December 9 there will be a half hour of community singing as a preliminary to the evening service. Familiar patriotic and religious songs will be sung by the entire congregation.

On December 22 the choir, with the accompaniment of piano, quartet and organ, will render "The Christmas Song" by Arthur Sullivan. December 9 they will render "Holy Art Thou" (harg), by Handel. December 22 there will be a special obligate accompaniment for violin. December 16 "Ave Maria," by Schubert, will be rendered by soprano and violin obligato. December 22 will be rendered a Christmas program of old traditional Christmas music. Plymouth church has been the scene of one of the Christmas of other days a popular feature of its programs for several years.

INFIRMARY BOXES SENT.

Tomorrow mite boxes will be delivered to the churches of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley by the publicity committee for the Infirmary Christmas celebration fund. The ministers will be requested to call attention to the event and request the congregations to do their bit. The boxes next week will be placed also in banks and stores and at lodge rooms, giving every one an equal opportunity of contributing. A. H. Frost, Oakland Savings Bank building, is chairman of the work.

NO TROUBLE WITH MEXICO.

Many persons doubtless read in an editorial in a morning contemporary of Friday, urging American intervention in Mexico, these two paragraphs:

"Both the custom and the tradition of international relations, as well as considerations of self-protection, justify the interference of one country
to put an end to disorders in another neighboring country which threaten the normal safety and prosperity of both.

"We are now engaged in spending money in incredible sums and are training our young men by the hundreds of thousands to be sent to the battle fields of Europe, on the ground that it is our duty to restore order in that distant continent and to make the peoples of the different countries over there safe in the enjoyment of their liberties and of their collective and individual rights, to live their lives under just, orderly and free institutions."

The statements in both these paragraphs are either deliberately false or spring from an amazing ignorance.

Custom and the tradition of international relations do not justify the interference of one country
to put an end to disorders in another neighboring country, under any circumstances. The rule of international law and practice of the whole world prior to July, 1914, and since then of all nations except those of the Teutonic alliance, is to permit every nation the fullest liberty and opportunity to control its own affairs.

It is the custom, tradition and recognized practice for one nation to lend its maximum moral support to the recognized government of another nation disturbed by internal disorders; to view with the warmest sympathy the efforts of the recognized government of a country so afflicted to restore and maintain social order. A neighboring government may cooperate upon request with the government of another nation assailed by internal strife, but to "interfere" against the wishes of an established and recognized government is an act of unauthorized and baseless hostility.

Intervention in the affairs of a neighboring people is justified only when all formal and recognized government has been overthrown and devastating revolt and anarchy reign. Then intervention must be benevolent—for the restoration of order and the protection of national and foreign interests. The custom and tradition of international relations countenance such procedure but do not "justify" it.

The government of President Carranza of Mexico, created at a popular election of the Mexican people, has been duly recognized by the United States, all the Latin American republics and the peoples of Europe. The recent reports of demonstrations by the so-called Villistas and of a revolt headed by Felix Diaz in southern Mexico are not under any circumstances provocation for even discussing the probability of armed intervention in Mexico by the United States.

It is the duty of the American government to see that its frontiers are safe at all times and to demand protection for American citizens on legiti-mate business abroad. But the immediate duty is to see that the smuggling of arms and ammunition by enemies of the United States to bandit gangs and pseudo rebels in all parts of Mexico is stopped.
And it is the government's further duty to see that no false, selfish and disloyal counsel is uttered to deceive and obscure the understanding of the American people while they are engaged in a war with a powerful European enemy. To accept this obligation is not only to support the integrity of the government and the people of Mexico, but to add to the safety of this country.

As to the statement that we are waging war against Germany on the ground that it is our duty to restore order in that "distant continent" of Europe, THE TRIBUNE cannot pretend to discern the motive for it.

In the first place the continent is not distant;
only off the eastern American coast one-half the effective radius of a German submarine. In the second place, the sole reason for the military program in Europe is that we were forced to defend ourselves against a predatory outlaw nation that had long waged hostilities against us and that threatened our life as an independent nation.

President Wilson, nor any other government of ficial, has never stated that we are at war on the ground that it is our duty to restore order in Europe. However, German officials have facelessly charged this was our purpose and some propagandists have echoed their sneer.

But despite such efforts, the United States will not be diverted from its fixed purpose to make the nation safe for all time from Pan-German domination and the world safe for democracy by the wolfish cry for "powerful armed intervention" in Mexico.

A SECOND MARNE.

On the Piave battle line Italy seems to have taken her stand and to have cast the lives of her brave men defiantly in the balance against the steam-roller tactics and the brute force of the Austro-German despoilers. The Italians are fighting with the spirit in which men consider it sufficient to die for their country.

During the last few weeks the people of the allied countries grieved over Italy's reverses, but did not despair, nor lose faith. Something obviously was wrong with the organization methods and work of the government and perhaps with the administration of the military forces. Reports there were of inroads on the morale of the soldiers and people by the German spy system and the plotting propagandist, but these were taken with a grain of salt. All who knew the history of Italy believed that her spirit would remain uncrushed and that she would speedily check the tide flowing against her.

Today faith in Italy has been justified. The Piave line may not hold indefinitely, it may have to be abandoned for a stronger position because of the overwhelming force of men and steel and explosive thrown against it. But the Italians have already won the decisive victory.

They have faced the Hun in the mightiest effort and the stormiest mood possible for him to exert and simulate and have held him fast for ten days.
It was the first time the sweeping, enveloping tactics employed in France in 1914 and later in Serbia, Montenegro, Russia and Rumania, had been directed at Italy. This was the culmination of the long-voiced threat to turn upon Italy at the chosen hour and punish her for not deserting humanity.
And the attempt has failed; it can never succeed.

The Piave is another Marne. It has called into action the soul of Italy, just as the Marne awakened France. It has called forth the mastery and genius of Italians, the cultural essence that in other ages radiated from the hills of Rome, from Umbria, Tuscany, Lombardy and Venetia and lighted the world with the light of civilization. In the mountains and on the plateau near the Piave stand men who have resolved to be worthy Caesar and Cicero, Dante and Petrarch, Giotto, Leonardo and Titian, Galileo and Columbus, Cellini and St.
Francis of Assisi, Garibaldi and D'Annunzio. They are sending a message to the enemy and to their allies that the ferocity of brute power cannot conquer nor intimidate into submission the spirit of civilized man.

Henceforth Italy will gain in strength and effectiveness. She has won over her own frailties.
That her progress may be as rapid as possible she must have help from America and her European allies—fuel for her munition plants, food for her people where needed, arms and ammunition—all given in full recognition of the part Italy has played in the past and in full confidence in her greater ability for the future.

SAME OLD TACTICS.

The arrogance, stupidity and inherent dishonesty of the government of Kaiser Wilhelm goes on unabated, as evidenced by the recent announcement that the so-called "barred zone" had been extended to include the Azores islands.

This is an example of arrogance in presuming to tell neutral nations that their ships cannot navigate a portion of the high seas without a Prussian permit; of stupidity in expecting the world to continue belief in the efficacy of the submarine mines to vitally interfere with the military projects of the allied nations and to "starve out" England, and of dishonesty in pretending that the "barred zone"
as described last January has been observed by the German undersea boats.

The issuance of the new decree is of about as much significance as the Berlin report that a German gardener has been decorated with the iron cross for growing excellent lettuce.

THE MAN ON HORSEBACK.

As an eulogy of Mr. George Kaufman, Mayor Davie's advisor, who goes to the city hall only to write his personal letters, it would be difficult to excel the effort of Mr. J. B. Campbell in his speech before the Davie meeting in the Clawson school Tuesday evening:

"My son and I were riding toward the mine, when we saw on a hill near the mine a lot of Mexican peons in a bunch, and opposite to them some Mexican rurales, mounted police, like the Canadian mounted police.

"Let me tell you, ladies and gentlemen, that these peons are human beings like you and me. And they only got 75 cents a day, while the American miners got $2.50
a day.

"And the captain of the rurales ordered the peons back in the mine, and they said they would not go. He said he had orders to make them go, and he ordered himself to put the gun to the shoulder.

"At that time a gray coming racing up the hill a man on horseback. His horse is covered with foam, and he panting as he races up the hill. When he comes close his nostril is wide open with fatigue. The man leaps from the horse and he tells the soldiers to put up their guns, and with tears in his eyes he says to the peons, 'I will settle the strike, go back to the mine, and you will get 100 cents a day, but $2.50 a day like the Americans.'

"He speaks Spanish to them, and they obey him, and there is no bloodshed. Who is this man who has saved the poor peons. It is Mr. George Kaufman, who is now being attacked and denounced in the City of Oakland.
But he is a great man, and the friend of the worker."

NOTES and COMMENT

It has not gone unnoticed that very many things get "probed" nowadays, but it was somewhat startling to find in the daily news a heading to the effect that a state institution "Wants All County Patients Probed." That seems to be carrying the custom a good ways.

It is pleasant to take account of the widespread intent in the homes about the bay to invite soldiers sojourning in this vicinity to sit in at the Thanksgiving dinner. It indicates not only a hospitable spirit but a patriotic impulse.

The Pasadena Star-News tells of a Miss Brown who can knit two socks at the same time. Then she ought to be able to knit one sock and later, to Professor Pugh, which the professor says is an impossible feat.

Ennui prevails in Marysville, according to the Appeal: "Business is so quiet at the court house that someone had to spirit the vacuum sweeper away to make a bit of excitement."

The embargo on passports to Lower California has been modified to such degree as to probably save Mr. Coffort's industry from that heart-rending disaster that threatened.
Ranch hands are to be furnished with season tickets, and no doubt, frequenters of races will be able to qualify as ranch hands. At least they work for another.

An Eureka man holds the record for "getting it in the neck." One wheel of a truck bearing a three-ton load passed over that part of his anatomy. He is fully entitled to the championship, for he walked away and there was not any serious results.

Redding has at least one cause for thanks, according to the Searchlight:
"If it cannot be thankful for anything else next week, Redding can be thankful for its preachers. They are all good fellows with pleasant dispositions, even if they do have a hard row to hoe."

Our government is to forward to the Kaiser the names of all interned Germans, and particulars as to just what is being done for their care and comfort, which will probably promote a smug smile for our lack of that war feeling. Catch the Hun being that particular as to any of his war prisoners!

The amazing and world-wide intrigues of the Kaiser will not now be fruitful, but their disclosure gives us an interesting light on kingly depravity and a chance to realize how fortunate we are that they did not succeed.

There may be German submarines off the coast of Brazil, but skeptics are apt to draw comfort from remembering the several reports of their appearance in the Atlantic off the coast of the United States, and even in the Pacific.

The San Diego Union tells of a knitting disaster. "A young woman up in our neighborhood has been knitting a sweater and a trench cap for the Red Cross. Yesterday she got the two articles mixed up and is still unable to decide which is which."

Mystifying head: "River Company to Sell Stock and Buy Boots." Unless it possesses boats it is not seen how
a river company can do business.
Though it is not to be denied that boots are necessary on the river, especially those of the rubber variety.

One of the results of the civil chaos in Russia is to sell their sugar.
An immense stock of it had been bought for them and was awaiting despatch in New York. The good intent to sweeten them up cannot now be carried out. With things mixed the way they are there is no certainty of getting shipments to the right parties.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

That time-honored pleasure of showing the bride with rice has fallen under the disapprobation of the food controller. He points out that it is a wasteful waste of good food
to run rice on the depot platform.
He wants the practice discontinued.
It should be. No groom will object.
—Stockton Independent.

A visitor from Pleasanton to this city yesterday was placed under arrest upon three separate charges of violating the local traffic laws. He was charged with parking his automobile within 15 feet of a corner, allowing the wheels of his machine to protrude outside of line and standing in one place for over an hour.
The gentleman was taken before Judge Dougherty in a highly distressed frame of mind, and when asked by the court how long he expected to remain in this city, replied:
"I really don't know, judge, it's according to the length of the sentence
you impose, and not one moment longer, I can assure you."—San Jose Mercury-Herald.

The day of the farm tractor is just dawning, but there are as many different forms on the market as there were automobiles ten years ago. In nomenclature, too, the inventors have exercised a free fancy. From a caterpillar to a steel mule is a long jump, but the makers of names for tractors have taken it. The Once Over, which invades America from England, is so aptly designated that one is tempted to think it must have been constructed this side the ocean.
Strictly speaking, it is not a tractor
at all, but a combination of farm implements to enable the farmer to prepare a seed bed at a single operation.—Santa Rosa Republican.

The unpleasant odor incident to the manufacture of potash from kelp has apparently been eliminated, according to reports which come from Dr. Ralph L. Taylor of the city of Long Beach. The "Hauber Method" has been adopted, at an expense of $2500 for each plant.—Ava-don Islander.

"ABSOLUTE MAXIMUM"

NEED FOR HENS

To the Editor of The Tribune:

We are threatened with a meat famine—in fact, it is actually upon us, for all but the wealthy. And in the midst of it all the average American goes right on overlooking the one best bet in the way of supplying a quick-growing, wholesome meat. I refer to poultry and eggs.

The average family, for some reason not wholly clear, would rather grow flowers in the back yard, which,
granted, are good to look upon but not worth a cent from a food standpoint or as a help to winning the war. Some families will shiftlessly allow the back yard to grow up in weeds, which not only are unsightly
but not good to eat and really an absolute menace, rather than go to a little trouble and the imaginary inmilation of having a few hens and growing chicks.

There is a wasteful tendency to throw table scraps into the garbage cans, rather than feed them to a flock of laying hens in the back yard. The argument has been raised that poultry consumes good grain that should be used in making bread, etc.
While chickens will, of course, eat
the best grade of grains and feed, they do not demand it, thriving quite well on the poorer quality of grains and seeds, table scraps and meat scraps from the butcher shops, articles of food that would otherwise be wasted. The hen will take these poorer grades of feeds and seeds and turn them into the "queen of breakfast foods," the fresh egg.

Fresh eggs are practically sure to sell for $1 per dozen the coming winter. Why? Not especially because of the high prices of grains, but because, as in many other cases, we have left the supply to such a limited number of producers to produce. In other words, the eaters are away out of proportion to the producers. This should not be. You can't keep a hog in your back yard, or a steer, or a flock of sheep, but you can and should keep a few hens.

Some people may claim that it does not pay with prices of grain, etc., as high as at present. On the United States Department of Agriculture farm at Beltsville, Md., an extensive test covering an entire year during which time feed prices were way up, showed that the cost of feed per dozen eggs produced by Leghorns averaged about 13 cents and for the larger breeds, or general purpose loaves, it averaged 17 cents.

Have prices of eggs been low enough at any time during the year to admit of any doubt as to the profitableness of poultry when authorities like the United States Department of Agriculture prove that the cost of producing a dozen eggs does not exceed the figures given above?

THE STUFF THAT'S IN THEM.

It makes you walk just a bit straighter and thank God you are an American when you read of things
like this:

Young Samuel Shober Jr., of this city—one of three sons of Samuel L.
Shober, widely known in Philadelphia financial circles who are now in uniform—has been decorated with the "Croix de Guerre" of France.

And this is why the War Cross came to the gallant "American volunteer" as he is described in the official citation:
"For the remarkable bravery and complete devotion he displayed in the course of an air bombardment in the night of October 2, 1917, when he continued to take care of a gravely wounded man, ignoring an enemy aeroplane flying over him at a low altitude, directing its machine fire upon him and dropping bombs in close proximity."

Proof once more that whatever comes or doesn't come the American soldier sticks to his job—a worthy posterity of ancestors who for two centuries fought savage tribes, wild animals and a continental wilderness
in order to win complete freedom.—

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Hiram S. Maxim, as head of an aerial navigation company, built an airship in bay district to make trip to Klondike.

Gang of burglars organized a raid on ten East Oakland homes and secured loot estimated at $1750.

Rev. Edward Davis, a local minister, refused to marry a couple in a lion's den at a local amusement park, on account of his fear of the lions.

Ngong Pong, Stanford student, who wed Miss Emma House, a coed, filed suit for $10,000 for libel against grocery firm that used his name in poetical advertising.

Police department held a "dead-
horse" sale which netted department $900.

HUMANITY FOR PRISONERS.

Our government does not act too soon in moving through neutral nations for an agreement with Germany on the treatment of prisoners of war.

A few American soldiers have been taken in trench warfare. A comparatively small number of Americans in civil life may be interned in Germany. We have 1364 actual prisoners of war, chiefly naval officers and sailors; while the 400 interned enemy aliens, unfortunately, are likely to increase in number as enemy activities continue.

Men of both classes are and will be kindly cared for. They are well fed, well lodged, treated with consideration and permitted every privilege of exercise consistent with safekeeping. Military prisoners have the pay and privileges of men of the same rank in our own forces and can provide themselves comforts,
even luxuries.

No one will ask Germany the impossible. A blockaded land cannot live with us in liberality as to food.
But through neutral agencies our men can be supplied with some necessaries from home. At least there will be less bitterness to live down after the war if Germany avoids, in the treatment of American prisoners, some of the barbarities against prisoners of other entente nations which Ambassador Gerard and other unimpeachable witnesses have described.—New York World.

Eastern Fighters Are Outclassed in Second Night of Big Tournay

Four Olympic Club Boxers Among Those Who Upset the Eastern Champions

By CARL E. BRAZIER

Amateur or professional—it seems to make no difference—the western boxer has it on the eastern champions. This has been shown in the professional game in local rings in the last few months. In the last two nights at the Exposition Auditorium, San Francisco, it has been shown in the amateur game. As a result, six out of seven amateur boxing championships are now held by Pacific Coast boxers where previously only the coast could lay claim to only one amateur national champion.

Here are the new amateur national champions in the various weight classes as determined by the big Red Cross amateur boxing tournament staged by the Olympic Club:

Bantamweight, 105 pounds—Jimmy Brennan, Los Angeles A. C.
 Featherweight, 115 pounds—Frank Garcia, Los Angeles A. C.
 Special class, 125 pounds—Walter Schiller, Olympic Club.
 Lightweight, 135 pounds—Earl Baird, Seattle A. C.
 Welterweight, 145 pounds—Fred Murphy, Olympic Club.
 Middleweight, 160 pounds—Eugene Brosseau, Montreal, Canada.
 Light heavyweight, 175 pounds—Chris Alcorn, Olympic Club.
 Heavyweight—Rudy Peterson, Olympic Club.

Olympic Club boxers won four titles, the Los Angeles Athletic Club was represented by two title winners, the Seattle Athletic Club can boast of one champion, and Montreal, Canada, is the home of the only champion from the East. It was not that the East was not represented, for the East sent several much-touted champions to the meet, boys who heretofore had been hailed as the best in their classes.

Jimmy Tomasula of New York, who came west for the meet bearing the proud title of national featherweight champion, took a neat little knockout from Frank Garcia of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Tommy Murphy, who came from Missouri, lugging along the lightweight title, was a bit too heavy for his classification and had to get into the welter division, and here he met his better, and Fred Murphy of the Olympic Club grabbed up his title.

Earl Baird of the Seattle Athletic Club, the only coast fighter who went into the tournament bearing a national championship title, defended his crown in good shape. He won from Sam Edstein of the Olympic Club in one of the best bouts of the two nights.

Eugene Brosseau, the only easterner who came out here with a title and went home with one, was really the class of the entry list. He showed more stuff in his two nights' appearance than any other individual on the program. Last night he won two bouts by the knockout route to get through to the final bout. He stopped Berkeley of the Olympic Club in the second round and gave Pete Towne, another Olympic Club boy, such a beating for a fourth round that Referee George Green had to stop the bout.

Jimmy Tomasula's knockout was the surprise of the evening. Anything he had the better of the first two rounds by the slightest kind of a shade. But coming in a fourth round, he was swinging right and left almost blindly and one of them caught Tomasula squarely on the jaw and dropped him. Tomasula did not take the count, but he was in such wobbly condition that the bout was stopped and Garcia declared the winner.

The two nights' boxing tournament was declared a great success by the Olympic Club committee in charge. There were 12,000 people attending the fights for the two nights and preliminary estimates figure that over $10,000 will be turned over to the Red Cross as the proceeds from the event.

The bouts of last night resulted as follows:

145 POUNDS, BANTAMWEIGHT.
 Charles Pica, Victoria, B. C., won from Ledy Ryan, O. C., decision, three rounds.

115 POUNDS, FEATHERWEIGHT.
 Jimmy Brennan, Los Angeles A. C., won from Charles Pica, Victoria, B. C., decision, three rounds.

125 POUNDS, SPECIAL CLASS.
 Walter Schiller, O. C., stopped Herbert Pica, Victoria, B. C., third round.

135 POUNDS, LIGHTWEIGHT.
 Final—Walter Schiller, O. C., won from Earl Baird, Seattle A. C., decision, four rounds.

145 POUNDS, WELTERWEIGHT.
 Fred Murphy, O. C., stopped Joe Murphy, Stanford, second round, referee calling a halt.

160 POUNDS, MIDDLEWEIGHT.
 Eugene Brosseau, Montreal, Canada, knocked out Jack Barker, O. C., second round, referee calling a halt.

HEAVYWEIGHT.
 Rudy Peterson, O. C., stopped E. V. Egan, Multnomah club, Portland, referee calling a halt, first round.

Muff Bronson Badly Beaten by Trambitis

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Muff Bronson, who was defeated last night at the hands of Kid Trambitis, received six rounds of punishment here tonight at the hands of the same fighter.

The sixth round ended with the boys in the center of the ring clucking to and fro with Bronson growling weaker.

Color results of the earlier bouts: Harry Anderson, Seattle, and Peter McKee drew 104 Gilbert, Bend, Oregon, and the game looks like one of the best of the season.

St. Joseph's to Meet Spartans for Title

St. Joseph's Academy and the Alhambra Spartans football teams will fight at the Alhambra tomorrow afternoon for the American football championship of Alameda county in the 115-pound class.

Neither team has been defeated this season and the game looks like one of the biggest affairs that has been offered to local football fans this season. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Ortega, Barrieau, Moy, Webb, and Others, on Emeryville Fight Card

Return to Good Old Days of Local Fighters For Thanksgiving

Battling Ortega, Frank Barrieau, Charlie Moy, Jimmy Dundee, Wild Willie Webb, Johnny Arrouse, Joe Gorman and George Hale—sounds like a directory of all the one-time favorite local fighters before the eastern dollar-lovers tried to break up the California fight game. But the list is only part of the list of fighters signed up by Matchmaker Tommy Simpson of the Emeryville Athletic Club for the revival of the right game on this side of the bay on Thanksgiving day afternoon.

With the fight situation a bit cleared up on the other side of the bay by the banishment of the eastern champions and the trouble-making managers, and with the bias Olympic club Red Cross tournament out of the way, Simpson is out to put the fight game back on its feet on this side of the bay. The fans have been demanding a return to the cards of local boys with less of the so-called eastern stars. Simpson has responded to this demand with a card of seven bouts made up wholly of local boys whom the fans know will be in there fighting all the time.

Here is the card announced for Thanksgiving day afternoon:

Battling Ortega vs. Dick Wells.
 Frankie Barrieau vs. Frankie Jones.
 Charlie Moy vs. Joe Gorman.
 Frankie Smith vs. Johnny Arrouse.
 Willie Webb vs. Pinkey Lewis.
 Jimmy Dundee vs. Al Grunau.
 George Hale vs. Ed Ryan.

Dick Wells, who is slated to meet Ortega in one of the bouts of the double main event, is the boxer who dropped Frankie Denny in Sacramento. He looks like a comer but he does not figure to do much with Ortega who right now is at his best and figures to clean up about all-comers. Frank Barrieau will break back into the game on this side of the bay, meeting Frankie Jones in the other half of the double main event.

Wild Willie Webb was slightly injured recently but is himself again now and says that he is better than ever. Jimmy Dundee and Charlie Moy are the card. They will not meet in this card, but it is encouraging to see them both back in action again, and it will probably be the first step toward a return toward these two boys who have made the furty in their previous meetings.

The student standing of Johnny Tait and Ed Dearborne of Fremont High will have a great deal to do with the team that will start the season with Dearborne being two great players last year, but with the strain of football they have been having trouble with their studies.

Whether the rest between now and Christmas will allow them to buck up in their studies and settle their eligibility for spring sports is another matter.

"Wop" Anderson, one of the best forwards in the league last year, is all right with the faculty, and will probably be on the job at forward when the season opens.

Red Roberts, Denton and Cardozo of last year's team are lost to Fremont, but in their places several players of merit have shown up in the early season practice.

Forrest Thiel, Francis Wilson and "Ike" Anderson, who have shown a lot of promise, are doing well in practice. George Grant and Dove, who were second string men last year, have also shown enough stuff to mark them as possibilities.

The Technical High School team will have Captain Horton, Spence and Buckle as their star players to start the season. Although Buckley was a sub-center last year, he has shown up well in the early season practice and is anxious to get into the starting line-up.

The individual schools of the Alameda County League are at present busy with basketball preparations. The Alameda County League schedule will be played in January and February, and the coaches are anxious to get their teams in shape for the season.

Coursing Meet At Merced an Annual Affair

Success of the First Meeting Arouses Enthusiasm in Club.

Plans are already being made by members of the Golden State Coursing Club to make their big coursing meet of the year an annual event. The enthusiasm of the members has been aroused by the great success of the meet which closed yesterday. Never before has the coursing men course such strong, fast hares, and the dogs were put to one of the most right tests of skill and speed that they have ever faced in a coursing meet anywhere in the country.

Wild Bill, a Kansas dog, owned by S. J. Dudley of Clay Center, Kan., finished the winner of the feature California Cup event in the finals of the coursing meet yesterday. Big Ben, owned by H. A. Flickenger of Sacramento, gave winner tough battle in final course, the scoring in the final run being 10 to 7.

These two dogs were slightly injured recently but is himself again now and says that he is better than ever. Jimmy Dundee and Charlie Moy are the card. They will not meet in this card, but it is encouraging to see them both back in action again, and it will probably be the first step toward a return toward these two boys who have made the furty in their previous meetings.

DEFENSE IS READY IN DE SAULLES CASE

MINEOLA, L. I., Nov. 24.—Waiting to go on the witness stand to tell her dramatic story of a husband's murder and a tragedy, Mrs. Blanca de Saulles today was heartened by a visit with her son, Little Jack, for whose sake she killed her divorced husband, John L. de Saulles.

The lad was brought to her room in Mineola jail. Meanwhile her attorneys prepared for the fight next week to save her from the electric chair. Forecasts of the story indicate it will be the diary of a slowly-breaking heart.

When Defense Counsel Utherhart outlined it in his opening statement two jurors wept. The little Chilean girl is to testify that alone in a strange land, after a year of courtship and marriage, she was introduced to her husband, who, she claimed, was a man of noble spirit, who had won her love and fortune on other women. It is believed the names of prominent persons will be brought in. The mention of "Mrs. Jo," a Broadway dancing favorite, has already been made in court by Utherhart. More about her may be heard from Mrs. de Saulles. The date of her husband's death is given as 1914. The charge of Broadway's beauties, will also figure.

The greatest attorneys in the country, Utherhart promised, will testify that Mrs. de Saulles was not responsible when she killed the man. Goaded by alleged neglect, loneliness and abuse, suffering from pressure on the brain from a fractured skull, it is claimed her mind went blank when, as a last straw, de Saulles tried to retain the child, her only joy.

There is great interest in the documents to be introduced by the defense. Some of these are letters written by Mrs. de Saulles. A determined effort will be made to prove the slain man a fortune-hunter, who married Blanca Erasmia for her money and finally reduced her to the white, frail "crushed ill" that sits in court day after day, dully apathetic for the most part as the light for her life goes on.

BIG INCREASE IN MANUFACTURING

Manufacturing investments in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley have more than doubled in the last three years and the output of factories has nearly quadrupled, according to figures issued by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

The figures were gathered in the course of an industrial survey covering the first six months of 1917 as compared with the like period in 1914.

The survey also shows a large influx of workmen, the number of factory employees having increased nearly 125 per cent. The following data has been compiled:

Capital invested in manufacturing, 1914, 1917.

Value of output, 1914, 1917.

Number employees, 1914, 1917.

Commercial deposits, 1914, 1917.

The increase in banking business for Oakland only is shown in the following figures supplied by the State superintendent of banks:

Building in 1917 kept pace with 1914, though it does not show the increase of other lines. In 1917 the total was $2,556,480, compared with $2,536,286 for 1914. In the latter year $500,000 is covered by the Municipal Auditorium.

left her alone and went out with another woman "no relation of his," that though she had a fear of burglars he would leave her alone in the house and that "all the aims and objects of matrimony have long since disappeared." They were married in 1891.

The Standard Fence Company is just starting the erection of several thousand feet of fence to enclose the large grounds of Mrs. I. Walker at San Mateo, together with a special iron entranceway and gates.

Many inquiries have been made to Secretary Bogle of the manufacturers' association as to galvanizing plants in Oakland. There is none. Why this should be is not known. The fact remains that the field for this type of industry is right here, and some one will awaken to that fact some day and develop a flourishing business in galvanizing.

The Pacific Electric Trolley Company of Bay Point has signed a ten-year contract for electric power. They will use $100,000 worth of power per year for the next ten years. An immense furnace building is practically completed. If the initial reduction proceeds as successful, the plant will be enlarged by the expenditure of upward of several million dollars.

The Alameda side of the estuary will receive additional industrial growth through the action of the Alameda city council in voting to buy electric energy for resale. It has not been possible for the municipal plant to generate sufficient power to serve the growing demands of the large plants located on the Alameda side of the estuary, and the action of the council now permits Alameda to compete with the South San Francisco industries, as well as Richmond, Pittsburg and other manufacturing centers.

Blundon-Ray-Hampton Company, 3200 Telegraph avenue, is completing some interesting work in the installation of special motor work, power wiring and the setting up of a No. 3 Sturtevant blower, used in connection with the oil business which will supply the heat for the making of brick. All this work is being done at the Allied Union Brick Company's new plant at Richmond. A most complete motor power installation and other electrical equipment is being installed by this company. Motors ranging from two to forty-horsepower and aggregating in all 125-horsepower will be the total power equipment.

Many progressive features have been incorporated in the California Cotton Mills new plant for the comfort and convenience of its employees. The welfare work, the pet hobby of J. R. Miller, general manager, has been so carefully worked out and developed as to have caused country-wide comment. As example, the Textile World Journal, Boston, Mass., is the national organ of the textile industry and this paper is so interested in the welfare of the workers in the textile plant that it has been doing so in the Textile World Journal special edition, which will soon be edited. By the way, this is also national advertising for Oakland.

INDUSTRIAL NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST CONCERNING THE MANUFACTURERS OF THE EAST BAY DISTRICT

CELEBRATION FOR NEW FACTORY UNITS

The Manufacturers' Committee at their regular weekly luncheon on Wednesday discussed "ways and means" to put over the largest demonstration ever held in connection with a "factory celebration." This to take place on December 1 at the Marchant Calculating Machine Company plant, Emeryville, Oakland. An elaborate program has been arranged, starting with a "Manufacturers' Luncheon" at the Commercial Club, and "this calculated" to figure as "some feed" followed by an automobile parade in which every make and horsepower of machine, from an airplane to a Marchant calculating machine, will be shown arriving at the Marchant plant at 2 p. m. Some of the best known speakers in the country have been invited to be present, and a national personality will be the main speaker of the day. Unique features will be employed in the official opening of the new units of this big factory. Inspection of the entire plant will follow the ceremonies, and in the evening a public dance will be held in the new building. A band and orchestra will furnish the "razz and stentoriana." The new units to be officially recognized as part and parcel of the Marchant Calculating Machine Company are respectively 250x36 and 180x36 feet in dimension, with an aggregate area of 16,000 square feet. ### AMERICAN DYES BEING EXPORTED

The American dye industry has not only grown big enough to supply practically all domestic needs, but is now exporting important quantities to other nations. In July nearly $500,000 worth of aniline dyes were shipped abroad, according to figures published in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. This is the first time that separate statistics for aniline exports have ever been issued, the innovation resulting from the recent striking growth of the trade.

Of all the industries created or developed as a direct result of war conditions, none has shown more rapid progress than American dyes. From only seven establishments in which 528 people were engaged in producing 6,912,223 pounds of coal tar colors, valued at $1,266,699, in 1914, the industry has developed until now it not only supplies the domestic demand for colors, but has even invaded the foreign market in European neutral and allied countries. Canada, Mexico, Argentina, Brazil, British India and Japan.

No other article of commerce more vitally affects a greater number of industries than do coal tar dyes, and very few articles rival them in complexity of manufacture. At the outbreak of the war the difficulties in the way of soon providing adequate domestic supplies seemed insurmountable; yet in the short space of three years scores of plants covering many acres of ground have been erected; numerous by-products coke ovens have been equipped to furnish the necessary raw materials; thousands of workmen have been trained; special machinery has been designed, built and installed; hundreds of chemists and chemical engineers have given their entire time to the unfamiliar work connected with color production; experimental research has been inaugurated for perfecting processes and machinery and the possible discovery of new colors; organization, consolidations and alliances have been effected within the industry to further increase output at decreased cost; and it is understood in the trade that plans are under way for entering foreign markets on a large scale.

Referring to the order of the United States government respecting the use of electric signs after 11 p. m., it has been stated on good authority that the sign served by the Great Western Power and the Pacific Gas and Electric Companies, supplied with hydro-electric energy, will be exempt. Only electric energy generated by coal or crude oil come under the 11 p. m. ban. San Francisco has three companies. One generates exclusively from crude oil. Both Oakland companies are hydro-electric.

A more widespread use of electricity in New Zealand and a greater demand for the various appliances that add to comfortable living are predicted in a report on New Zealand's markets for electrical goods made public by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. The standard of living is good in the island, says the report, and there is an absence of a poor class, but there are some modern conveniences of which the people have not yet taken advantage. The standard of living is good in the island, says the report, and there is an absence of a poor class, but there are some modern conveniences of which the people have not yet taken advantage.

Trade between the United States and South America is three times as great as in the year before the war. A compilation by the National City Bank of New York shows that the total exports to that continent in the eight months ending with August (the latest month for which figures are available), aggregated $188,000,000 against $65,000,000 in the same months of 1914; and the total imports from South America were $435,000,000 against $157,000,000 in the same months of 1914. Thus the total trade with that continent in the eight months of 1917 was $623,000,000 against $222,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1914.
